Jesse Owens is an owner operator based out of Buena Park, California. Since 2005 he has performed work in Southern California under the business name of Tractors Express. They perform a wide variety of construction work including but not limited to: excavation, trenching, utilities and footings on commercial and residential projects. Jesse recently took delivery of a new John Deere 27C ZTS compact excavator purchased from Coastline Equipment Co.

Jesse Owens comments, "We purchased the John Deere 27C ZTS because of its tremendous versatility and high production. We own John Deere backhoes and knew the addition of this compact excavator would enable us to cover a variety of additional applications on projects. This new John Deere has been a wonderful addition to our equipment fleet. The most important features on the John Deere 27C ZTS are the zero tail swing and the independent-swing boom with 360-degree rotation. These two features allow us to work with ease around structures and tight quarters."

Jesse adds, "There was no question that we were going to own a John Deere compact excavator. Coastline Equipment Co. has been great to work with. Coastline and their salesman Andy Valdez has followed through with everything they have promised. We are very pleased with their exceptional products and service.
